

Late Property Tax Payment Relief Commended

District 2 Executive Councilor Andru Volinsky, who is also a Democrat running for governor, commended Sununu Saturday for issuing Emergency Order 25, which allows cities, towns, and counties to utilize powers for the abatement of interest and penalties on late payment of property taxes.

"Since the COVID 19 crisis hit New Hampshire, I've heard from property taxpayers across the state that they're living in a state of fear and dread about their upcoming property tax bills," he said. "I called on Governor Sununu last month to suspend interest, penalties and liens imposed upon the late payment of property taxes. I'm glad he's taken action (Friday) so that Granite Staters won't be crushed by interest and penalties on late property tax payments."
